Seán Tucker-Clemens Guitar Tutor:

I began peripatetically teaching guitar whilst in my final year at the Academy of Music and Sound in Exeter. Since graduating in September 2016 with a 2:1 degree classification I have grown my tuition into a full-time practice now providing lessons in half a dozen schools across Devon each week. I have an extensive educational background which has led me to hold both a BTEC Level 2 & 3 in music performance and a BA (Hons) degree in performance industries. Over the years I have studied and performed many different aspects of electric and acoustic guitar playing and can confidently teach a wide range of musical genres. I use a lot of contemporary chart prep in my lessons and have extensive experience of delivering the RSL Awards grading syllabus in which my students have a 100% pass rate, most of which with merits and distinctions. As well as both electric and acoustic guitar lessons I can also offer ukulele tuition and beginner/intermediate bass guitar lessons.

I am BA (Hons) qualified, DBS certified (enhanced certificate), safeguarding trained and an active member of the Musician's Union.

Current lesson prices:

- £12 for 20m
- £16 for 30m

Fees are paid for via direct debit in 2 x 50% installments per term (one payment each half). I usually do 10-12 lessons per term depending on the school calendar.
